An aerial photograph of two children sitting on a concrete pavement. The child on the left is a young boy in a red and white striped shirt, drawing blue squares and a long blue line. The child on the right is a young girl in a red shirt and denim overalls, smiling. The pavement is covered with various colorful chalk drawings, including stars, circles, and a large rocket ship with blue fins and orange and pink flames. A large blue speech bubble with a white border is positioned in the upper right, containing the text 'BEST SUMMER EVER'.
